Other Background Info

History of Newman's Own

As a lover of good food, Paul found the over-processed salad dressings sold in stores to be a distraction to the experience of a good fresh salad. As a guy who equally loved a challenge, he started mixing his own dressing using high-quality, fresh ingredients. He and his pal, A.E. Hotchner, filled empty wine bottles with Paul's homemade salad dressing to give to friends and neighbors as gifts for the holidays. Many of these folks returned several months later asking for refills and suggested the dressing be sold in stores.

Newman's Own Salad Dressing was officially launched in 1982 and, much to Paul's astonishment, became an instant success. With the first-year profits around $300,000, Paul declared, "Let's give it all away to those who need it." And so a splendid journey was launched.
